FALL EDITION

OCTOBER 2022

Well, we have a great fall unfolding before us. Harvest is underway in the Red River Valley, weather so far has been good!

I would like to talk about one aspect of gun collecting that none of us like to talk or think about. When our time runs out, and we go to the great gun show in the sky, we have to try passing our gun collecting passion on to our children and grandchildren. We need to explain the history of the guns in our collections. The little variations that make a lot of difference in their value. As we all know, two guns can be the same model, same percentage of wear, yet because of a small variation one can almost double in value. When we as collectors begin getting older, we need to pass on this valuable information. If not to family then a close friend.

NOW, let's all think about a great upcoming season! I hope all of our members are doing well, have luck with the hunting game and guns for your collection.

Your friend and President DTGCA William Braun
